

The Home Of Rhubarb Diaries

My first foray into writing took place at "Rhubarb Diaries" , my first web site. Since then, I have moved all of the content and compiled it on this site. You may have tried to go there at first, but ended up here instead.

The Rhubarb Diaries is evolving down a slightly different path now. It will now be as it was first envisioned - a series of books that will pull together memoirs, musings, and insights from my world over the years. The original inspiration for the title comes from this story
